DOXEY CERTIFIED AS VICTOR WITH MARGIN TOTALLING 818 VOTES

Official Tally Gives Senator Doxey 59,556 and Representative Collins 58,738—Both Candidates Give Out Prepared Statements.

Secretary of State Walker Wood Saturday certified Representative Wall Doxey, 49 years old, of Holly Springs, as the winner of last week's special election over Representative Collins of Meridian ,and his credentials were airmailed to Washington.

The official returns tabulated in the secretary of state's office gave Doxey 59,556 votes to 58,738 for Collins, or a lead of 818 votes.

Immediately after the count the papers were dispatched to Governor Paul B. Johnson who signed them at Pascagoula where he was participating in a ship launching.

Wall Doxey took the oath of office in Washington Monday, as successor to Senator James Eastland, serving interim since the death of the late Pat Harrison last June. The term has 15 months to run.

After Doxey is sworn in, a vacancy will exist automatically in the Second Congressional District, will be filled in a special election to be called by Governor Johnson.

Collins Concedes

Late in the afternoon, Representative Collins ,who remained at his headqcarters here during the official counting, conceded the election of Doxey, but said in a written statement that if he received evidence sustaining "many reports of irregularities," he would "take such appropriate action as may be necessary." He was represented at the count by J. B. Snider, Clarksdale publisher and former lieutenant governor.

Collins' statement said:

"An official canvas of the election returns in the campaign for the United States Senate indicates the election of my opponent by a small majority. If this is the will of the people of Mississippi, as a good Democrat I accept their judgment. I have, however, received many reports of irregularities which if true, raise a serious question as to whether the official announced result of the election reflects the will of Mississippi voters. I regret that I am financially unable to undertake as thorough an investigation of the matters as the seriousness of these reports call for, but if satisfactory evidence sustaining them is sumbitted to me, I expect to take such appropriate action as may be necessary to assure the people of Mississippi that their voice will be heard and their choice respected.

"For those of my fellow citizens, who, in the exercise of free and independent judgment, saw fit to support my opponent, I hold no ill will.

Voices Appreciation

"To my many friends throughout the state who so loyally and enthusiastically supported me in the campaign I express my deep and sincere appreciation. I shall never forget their efforts in my behalf, and for them I shall ever be grateful."

The following statement was issued by Hindman Doxey, brother and campaign manager of Congressman Doxey.

"With the official count of the vote of last Tuesday showing the election of Wall Doxey as United States senator to succeed the late Senator Pat Harrison, I want to take this opportunity, on behalf of myself and others connected with the Wall Doxey headquarters, to thank our many friends throughout the state for their loyal, sincere and enthusiastic interest in the election of Wall Doxey.

"Because of the short duration of the campaign and because he was occupied part of the time with official duties in Washington Wall Doxey was unable to meet as many people as he would have liked and was unable to carry his campaign to a great many places he had planned to visit. The people of Mississippi received him in a splendid manner and supported him in a way that will be appreciated. The hospitality, the kindness shown him and the many things done in his behalf will be gratefully remembered.

"I know that as United States senator he will be ever faithful to the trust placed in him by the people of his state. Wall Doxey's desire to make Mississippi an able senator and to this purpose he will dedicate his efforts and energy.

"As United States senator, he will co-operate for the best interest of the state and will fulfill the obligations of that high office with the thought ever uppermost in his mind that he is a representative of all the people."

BAND HALL FOR BAY HI COMPLETED

Public Invited to Call and Visit This Third Floor Addition To School.

The Bay High Band was conceived in the minds of the administration of Bay High School, headed by Mr. S. J. Ingram, three years ago.

The band was begun August 20th, 1938 with four members. For three years this organization has won many honors. These honors were won in spite of the working condition and not because of them. The band met in the gym and held rehearsals in competition with the noise of gym classes and the other school activities.

Last session a new project was granted to Bay High School for a new band division. This project was secured through the consistant efforts of Mr. Ingram, Mr. Grady Perkins, Mr. Johnnie Buehler and members of the Board of Trustees.

The plan called for a third floor on the south side of the gymnasium.

With consistent planning and hard work ,the band hall is almost completed. The department includes the following: A general assembly room large enough to seat a ninety piece band, lockers for uniforms and other equipment, a system of practice rooms for individual practice, a small ensemble and twirling room for drum majors, the entire system of rooms and large ensemble room are sealed with sound-proofing and acoustical treatment, the entire department is wired with a communication system whereby any room in the department may be contacted from the director's desk.

The entire plan was examined and passed upon by the architect of the State Department of Education, meeting all the requirements of the Department of Education.

The Bay High Band is jubilant over the wonderful band department, and is taking a great deal of pride in guiding visitors through the department.

We cordially invite all who would like to see this wonderful department to come to Bay High and ask to be directed to the beautiful band hall.

The Bay High Band and Director wishes to thank the Superintendent, the City Commissioners, the Board of Trustees and all others who have helped in any way in making possible [illegible]

UNITED STATES SHOULD PROTEST.

HOSTAGE killing in Germany occupied countries, virtually mass murder, is revolting to civilization and yet no nation, not even our United States, has resented this most brutal practice.

A German soldier is killed and immediately members of the Gestapo enter a restaurant or some other public place and some twelve or twenty innocent men are surrounded by soldiers, marched off and executed without hearing—innocent men shot down like so many dogs. They are tied to a post and left there to rot. This is affected under the head of reprisal!

In the name of common decency and self-respect some nation should protest and such document officially presented to Germany. It would do no good, but for the sake of record, it would show we had protested against such unbelievable atrocities.

Our silence and that of other nations seemingly would indicate our approval. Even though we can do nothing in the premises, the government should protest in the strongest terms possible—in the name of humanity, christianity and common decency, even though no Americans are involved.

PAINT AND REPAIR CONTRIBUTING ASSETS.

EVERY time one repairs and paints his property he adds that much value to its worth and contributes to the better appearance of the town. It is surprising how many dwellings and business houses are allowed to run down and fall prey to the ravages of deterioration.

There is no better investment than to paint one's property. Bay St. Louis has many attractive places, well kept and painted, but there is a contrasting number to the contrary.

How one can let their premises go down and allow the value to fall to low value, passes understanding.

Some cities, particularly out in California, are noted and praised for their beauty and attractiveness. This is the result of nothing but well kept dwellings, gardens, lawns and clean premises in general rather than vacant lots and other spaces grown high with weeds.

TURKEYS WILL BE PLENTIFUL.

HERE'S a consoling thought. A headline over a press telegram says "Turkeys to Be Plentiful For Early Thanksgiving."

This press intelligence from Salt Lake City is interesting—as far as the turkey supply is concerned:

Turkeys will be plentiful for Thanksgiving dinners November 20, but may be scarce by November 27, directors of the Northwestern Turkey Growers' association, were told today.

Herbert Beyers, secretary-manager, said that if the larger consuming states observe November 20 as Thanksgiving—proclaimed by President Roosevelt—there will be a shortage of birds for the rest of the month because of the maturing of his year's flock.

There will be plenty from December on, though.

OF INTEREST TO MEN FROM 17 TO 50.

THE United States Navy offers to young men the most attractive offer to be made, according to advertisement appearing in another section of this week's issue of The Echo. There are different branches of the Navy and the Naval Reserves is also a branch offering great inducements.

The navy has issued a most attractive pamphlet that can be had at The Echo office for the asking. Filling out the coupon in the corner of the advertisement will get it, or, a personal call, at The Echo office.

Young men will find this a most attractive proposition ad and worthy of investigation. No obligation incurred by asking for a copy of this pamphlet—at The Echo office.

DEFINITELY FOR DOXEY.

THE Sea Coast Echo last week published the election returns from the twenty-two precincts over the county, following special election. Although not official they are practically the same as the vote finally tabulated and sent on to the Secretary of State. Wall Doxey certainly made a splendid race in Hancock county—overwhelmingly so. This is to the credit of his supporters and indicated the trend of Hancock county—definitely for Doxey.

We noticed a number of lights over the city are not lit at night, but showing only a soft glow or a light of value. Wonder if this is cutting down the use of electricity for these particular lights are many—or are they of the variety of the forgotten man. Surely the city is not paying for so many lights not in use. We feel sure the city would not permit it.

Clayton Rand, genius of the Mississippi Guide at Gulfport, is away this week, delivering lectures in Virginia and other sections of the country before convention meetings. He will spend a short while in New York City before returning to the Mississippi Gulf Coast. No man has done more for presenting this section to the public view over the nation than he. Such personality is an outstanding asset and we indite this item as an expression of our appreciation, [illegible]

A RICH MAN'S MONEY.

MARSHALL Field, grandson of the Chicago merchant, and considered one of the world's wealthiest men, is about to finance the publication of a new daily morning paper in Chicago. The newspaper will compete with the Chicago Tribune, whose inordinate boast that it is "the world's greatest newspaper" serves only to indicate what The Tribune thinks of itself.

Mr. Field has been active in emphasizing the importance of individual service in connection with the present world crisis and believes that the word "attack" should be substituted for "defense" in American thinking.

His attitude toward his money is interesting. He says: "I don't know what is going to happen to me. I don't know what is going to happen to it, and I don't give a damn. If I cannot make myself worthy of three square meals a day, I don't deserve them."

The Chicagoan recognizes that this country faces social changes. He does not believe that we will ever see a shortage of food in one place while food is being destroyed in another. "If that starts to happen because some selfish interests try to get in the way," he warns, "They will be pushed out of the way so quickly you won't be able to see their dust."

Of course, we do not know Mr. Field personally but his philosophy indicates that the possession of great wealth has not disturbed his soul. Like a few other sons of great wealth in this country, who have developed splendidly despite the handicap of wealth, he deserves our best wishes for success. Here's hoping! It is well Mr. Field has more money than he knows what to do with. Every intelligent person knows that it takes lots of money to run a newspaper—regardless if its daily or weekly.

MURDER BY LOT.

THE civilized world will be shocked, if any Nazi atrocity can do the job, by the shooting of hostages in Paris.

Because German soldiers were killed by ununknown persons in France, the Nazi military regime lined up prisoners, selected a number by lot and executed them in cold blood. The men shot were guilty of no crime, were neither accused, tried nor convicted.

It is important for people in this country to realize that this brutal and barbaric policy represents the calculated and methodical application of German might. All over Europe, German firing squads are shooting down hostages, regardless of age, in an effort to suppress the steadily growing opposition to their occupation.

In the United States and other civilized countries, there is a natural repulsion to indiscriminate killing of innocent people, regardless of provocation. We have an idea that a man, or woman, is entitled to a trial and subject to punishment only for his, or her, crime. To execute helpless prisoners in cold blood is abhorrent to us.

The murder of these hostages by German military authorities should make plain to some Americans that there is a vast gulf between the way of civilization that we have adopted and the practices of Hitler's so-called "New Order." The wonder is that there are free-loving Americans who are unable to see this contrast clearly.

RUSSIA'S BITTER BATTLE.

NEWS from the vast battle-line in Russia has been discouraging to those of us who have hoped that the Russians would be able to effectively check the German advance at the Dnieper river.

It now seems probable that the Nazi march will be resumed toward the Donet industrial area, the Caucasus and other vital sectors. The army of the Ukraine seems to be outnumbered, or outclassed, by its foes and compelled to yield territory to escape destruction.

Even now, according to the experts, the British maintain their inactivity in Africa, waiting for events to develop in the Ukraine and with the apparent intention of rushing reinforcements to the Russians if the vital oil regions are imperilled. A German thrust through Iran would present grave threats to vital British areas.

It is too early to conclude that German forces will be able to sweep eastward to the Caucasus or that the Red army will not be able to stem the enemy's advance. In the three months of the present struggle Berlin has, upon several occasions, heralded vast victories that did not develop and such may be the ultimate outcome of present boastings.

NATION-WIDE TRUCK AND BUS INVENTORY.

MR. Wright, in charge of the Mississippi Unit of the Nation-wide Truck and Bus Inventory ,states that work on the project is progressing rapidiy. The work is being done in the Senate Chamber of the new capitol by 35 WPA employees under supervision of the WPA in collaboration with State's representatives from Federal Public Roads bureau and the Motor Vehicle Commission. There are about 65,000 trucks and busses in Mississippi to be registered and classified. Each truck owner will be mailed a card on which he is asked to report its condition and availability in the event it is needed for national defense or other emergency.

A news article in another section of The Echo calls attention to the necessity of all truck owners in Hancock county registering with County Agent Stowers at the courthouse. This news article carries information of local interest.

LIVE STOCK AND DAIRYING.

JUST now the State of Mississippi, particularly this section is devoting much attention to the subject of live stock raising and dairying. This is said to top all agricultural and kindred pursuit. With proper attention, our soil will grow all feed necessary, besides there is ever a market for live stock and dairy products. For 1942—a Beautiful New FORD "6" OR "8"

IN THESE UNUSUAL TIMES we invite you to inspect an unusual new car—new in its beauty, its comfort, its choice of two fine 90 horsepower engines, 6 cylinders or 8.

See it and you sense at once that here is new style that will stay good for years. On a lower, wider chassis, we have designed new long, low, wide and modern lines.

Interior treatment is entirely fresh, distinctive, pleasing. The beauty of this Ford will more than hold its own in any company.

Inside, the car is big—wide across the seats, generous in knee-room, leg-room, elbow-room.

On the road this year you find the "new Ford ride" still further advanced in its softness, quietness, steadiness and all-round comfort.

At the wheel, you will find driving easier than ever. Steering, gear-shifting, action of the big and sure hydraulic brakes have all been made smoother and easier.

In quality, the car is sound to the last detail. Defense requirements have all been met without a single reduction in the basic and lasting goodness of the Ford mechanically. Some new materials have replaced old ones, usually at a greater cost to us, but in every case the new is equal to or better than the old.

If your family needs a new car, go see and drive this Ford. For what it is today and for what it will be through the years ahead, we believe that you will find in it more and better transportation for your money than you have ever found before.

Hollywood Echoes.

THE senatorial investigation of Hollywood and its film production continues, and so does Hollywood. There's been no noticeable change in schedules by any of the leading studios. If they're worried, they're keeping it to themselves.

* * *

Speaking of being worried, reminds us that sometime ago it was rumored that Dorothy Lamour was upset because she had been "typed" as a South Sea islander, destined to wear only sarongs, and that she had literally "boiled her simple wardrobe in oil and renounced forever her abbreviated costume." It wasn't true, it seems, because Dottie is back displaying her "figger" the same as always.

Believe it or not, Stirling Hayden, young blond and promising actor, doesn't like Hollywood's tinsel and veneer ,and perfers the simple life with his boats and is reported trying to persuade Paramount to release him from his contract.

Several year sago, Paramount had a similar situation to cope with. A young cowboy, with a promising future, became fed up with Hollywood and deserted it in favor of his Montana ranch. It required all the persuavie powers of Adolph Zukor, then head of the studio, to bring Gary Cooper back to the screen.

Richard Green, the good-looking young English actor, who left Hollywool to get into active duty in England, has been released from duty temporarily to appear in "Unpublished Story" as a war correspondent in the Fleet Street-Dunkerque film.

Busy with its extra duties required in patrolling the sea lanes of the Atlantic, the Navy will be unable to cooperate with Paramount in the production of "Tomorrow's Admirals," and so this film is to be shelved for the time being at least.

A baby elephant, bought by Metro, evidently couldn't stand the high life of Hollywood and soon died. However, not to be discouraged, Metro had the little fellow stuffed ,so expertly that he's almost life-like.

While on a "vacation" in New York, Betty Grable attended an Eddie Cantor broadcast, made personal apperances in connection with the world premiere of "A Yank in the R. A. A film director wears the jacket he wore while directing "Little Miss Marker" with Shirley Temple, which made him famous, at least one day during the shooting of every picture on which he works. He thinks it's lucky. The jacket, by the way, is now tattered, faded with age and weak at the seams.

Sixty Billion for Defense

According to the Office of Production Management, total national defense and British war orders mounted to $60,016,000,000 at the end of August. Of this $3,659,000,000 were foreign orders, mostly British. The largest single category was twelve and a half billion for airplanes, followed closely by ordnance, twelve billion, and ships, eleven and a half billion. Approximately one-half of the total authorization has actually been contracted for.

"Liberty Fleet Day"

Mississippi contributed toward the observation of "Liberty Fleet Day" on September 27 with the launching of the S. S. African Planet at Pascagoula, another combined passenger-freight vesse l for the Amercian-South African Line. This was one of the fourteen ships launched that lay throughout the country, the largest mass launching since World War 1. Among the fourteen ships were the first three of the emergency cargo vessels or "Liberty Ships" of which three hundred and twelve are now actually under construction.

Preparedness

Some idea of how far we we still have to go before we will be prepared for any eventuality was indicated in a recent speech by Assistant Secretary of War McCloy when he pointed out that Germany "has 300 divisions under arms—9 to 10 million men; England has only a fraction of that number, we have 33 anl a calvary brigade.. Its air force alone is as large as our entire army. It is esitmated that perhaps 100 of its divisions have yet to be engaged in Russia. The tanks and aeroplanes which Germany can muster on any one day exceed all the tanks and planes which were engaged in all of the last war on all sides."

WHAT DOES A WEEKLY EDITOR DO?

"What does a weekly editor do
When his paper has gone to press?
Does he hunt and fish the rest of the week,
Or just sit down and rest?"

* * *

He hunts and fishes the rest of the week;
Fishes for worthwhile news—
Hunts the elusive display ad
'Till holes wear in his shoes.

He sits and rests at a linotype
And loafs at composing stones
'Til the poor wretch longs to die, eyes are dim
And aches torment his bones.

He romps with pages of garbled proofs
Hunting the errors sly
Which hawk-eyed readers flaunt in his face
'Til the poor wrech lonugs to die.

He frolics with taxes and overhead
'Til his brain begins to spin—
Finding his income going out
And expenses coming in.

He toys with the circulation list
Striving to think of a way
To keep it up to a normal size,
Yet make the delinquents pay.

He sits and rests at his battered desk,
Pounding out pages of news—
Painting a county's weekly scene
In its many varied hues.

As press-time breathes upon his neck,
He frolics, in ecstasy great,
With nine full pages of "Must-Go" type
Where space permits but eight.

After the paper is off the press
This lazy, leisurely chap
Outs with the weekly mailing list
And starts to fold and wrap.

That day when he stands at The Pearly Gates
And presses the entrance bell,
St. Peter will say, "Come in, old man,
"You've had your share of . . . .
—Work!"

"MOTHER MUST NEVER KNOW"

In Chicago this summer, the writer bumped into a boyhood friend from Mississippi who had been living in the Windy City several years. Instead of sharing our enthusiasm for the unexpected reunion, he seemed nervous, ill at ease, and anxious to terminate the meeting. Before going, he asked us not to tell his mother in Mississippi of having seen him. We asked for an explanation.

"Well, Mama think I'm playing a piano in a South Side honky-tonk, and peddling dope. If she knew what I really am doing, it would kill her."

Amazed, we asked what on earth he was doing that could be worse.

"I'm working for the Chicago Tribune," he said.

LET'S BOOST HOME STUFF.

Too many Mississippi cafes feature ,on their menus, such foods as "Virginia Ham," "Idaho Potatoes," "Florida Beans," "Louisiana Shrimp," etc. In quite a few eating establishments we've patronized, even the very ketchup on the table is bottled in Indiana or Illinois—although our state has the worll's finest tomatoes, as well as many home canning and packing plants which put out products equal to any.

Why should Louisiana shrimp or Idaho potatoes or Virginia ham offer a stronger appeal than state products to a hungry Mississippian? The sooner home folks start buying and using and boosting Mississippi stuff, the sooner we will be able to surrender our doubtful distinction of having the lowest per capita income of any state in the Union.

GRUESOME, YET EFFECTIVE

On the straight broad highways around Clarksdale, the motorists sees little signs which cause cold shivers to race up and down his spine. And, if the motorist has ordinary human instincts, he eases up on the accelerator. For these little signs, about the size of a regular highway marker, bear the grim Skull and Crossbones of Death. They mark the spots where people have been killed along the highway, and each of the too-numerous signs has a small numeral . . . "2," "3," "4" etc. . . . denoting the exact number killed at that particular spot.

This idea is rather gruesome, yet it is effective and might profitably be adopted by other Mississippi localities. Anything that makes the motorist more vigilant and cautious is worth trying. Too many good people are being killed on our state highways.

"HOLD THAT GHOST" AT ORTTE THEATER SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Famous Team, Bud Abbott And Lou Costello, Biggest Laugh Provokers on Screen.

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello have done it again! Following up their sensational successes in Universal's "Buck Privates" and Abbott and Costello and Dick Powell in the Navy, these two stellar comedians crash the screen with even more hilarious performances in the same company's "Hold That Ghost," which opens Sunday and Monday at Ortte Theater.

Equipped with even a more diverting story thread than the earlier Abbott and Costello vehicles, and carrying a more imposing supporting cast and an elaborately impressive mounting, "Hold That Ghost" is probably destined to surpass even the enormous grosses piled up by Univeral's Army and Navy laugh-jerkers.

That Abbott and Costello are destined to hold for some time to come the high cinematic positions they have so suddenly gained, is clearly demonstrated by their rip-roaring contributions to this newest Universal hit. They definitely are solid entertainers with a broad appeal for the masses.

This time Bud and Lou, operators of a gas station, accidentally become entangled with a gangster and just as accidentally become his heirs. Their chief inheritance is a long-abandoned and supposedly haunted tavern, headquarters for rum-runners and gamblers during the prohibition era.

"Hold That Ghost" opens in a new night club, where Ted Lewis and his orchestra and the Andrews Sisters are supplying the entertainment and where Abbott and Costelio, weary of the dreariness of their business, get jobs as relief waiters. Lewis and the Andrews Sisters sing several song numbers in the ninety scenes and in the garden party sequence that brings the feature's final fade.

Abbott and Costello are in top form throughout "Hold That Ghost's" unfoldment, leading their audiences from laugh to laugh in an unbroken chain. Carlson is excellent as the young doctor, sharing romantic honors with the beautiful and equally-talented Evelyn Ankers.

★ STARS IN THE SPOTLIGHT! ★

BY ETHEL VINE

Joan Crawford

A different Joan Crawford will be seen in the screen version of "When Ladies Meet," Rachel Crothers' play which proved such a brilliant success on Broadway a few seasons ago. As Mary Howard, the star returns again to her sophisticated, woman-of-the-world type of heroine she interprets so well. With a cast also including Robert Taylor, Greer Garson, Herbert Marshall and Spring Byington, the picture promises to be one of the brightest comedy-dramas of the year.

A Skillful "Cat"

A versatile actress, Miss Crawford, of late, has demonstrated her ability to play unusual characters with an authority that has won her wide critical acclaim. For example, in her last film, "A Woman's Face" she departed altogether from conventional types, offering an unusual psychological study of an afflicted woman suffering from an inferiority complex. Previous to that in "The Women," she played "a cat" with such skill and humor that it proved to be one of the most amusing portrayals of screen history.

A Hard Worker

Perhaps one reason which sets Miss Crawford apart as an actress who has maintained her popular following since silent days in pictures, is the fact that she is such a conscientious artist. Seldom satisfied with her work, she strives unceasingly to perfect her technique, to vary her characterizations and to experiment. Since she first started acting in a Shubert musical, a youngster still in her teens, she has always been a hard worker.

Miss Crawford has now reached the pinnacle of success, yet only recently she told an interviewer:

"I have never done anything on the screen that has really satisfied me. When I have I shall retire."

The actress lives in Brentwood with her little adopted daughter, Christina. She leads a quiet life, entertaining friends occasionally; riding and swimming and playing a good game of badminton. For a thrill, she takes a holiday in New York.

SCHOOL FOR DRAMA TO BE HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY, OCT. 8.

School for Drama, will be presented in Bay St. Louis High School, on Wednesday, October 8, at 1:00 p. m., according to an announcement by Mr. S. J. Ingram, Supt.

Because everyone is keenly aware of the radio and theatre, this twofold program, in which each is demonstrated, will be given. First, a typical studio representation of a radio "Murder Mystery" and second, as a contrast, a one-act play given in the best tradition of the theatre will be given so the audience will see the difference in technique of these two types of dramatic represetation.

Not the least interesting part of the radio program will be student participation in the "Man on the Street" manner and the use of a great variety of sound effects, both manual and recorded, to show "how it is done." For this work a cast of artists with both radio and theater experience has been assembled.

Edward Ress did a remarkably fine piece of acting this past season as young Abe Lincoln in "Progress to Glory." His work in the theatre includes leads in such plays as "Winterset," and "Personal Appearance," and he has done considerable radio work in Chicago. A few seasons ago he wrote, directed, and acted in 26 weekly programs of the "Great Artists" series, presented on WGN, Chicago.

Julie Gregory, lovely young ingenue, studied at the Goodman Theater dramatic school, and was one of the prize pupils of Charlotte Corpenning there. Her radio experience includes a variety of characterizations in such programs as "Ma Perkins," "Living Bible," "Women in White," "Road to Life," and the "Guiding Light."

A third member of the cast will assist in the presentation of this "two-in-one" program.

The program is designed to be not oly a splendid dramatic entertainment, but to offer a wealth of information.

EVENING OF FUN BY ROTARIANS

Losing Side in Attendance Contest Pays Off—Shrimp Boil at Hotel Reed.

A most enjoyable jollification meeting of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club was held at Hotel Reed Tuesday night by members of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club.

The eats and drinks were paid for by a losing side. Recently the club put on an attendance contest, dividing the club into two sections, one side pitted against the other. Ben Hille was captain of one side while Jack Adamson was captain of the other.

The side losing was to individually pay all expenses of a real party. And that was held Tuesday in the form of what was termed as a shrimp boil, with beer, and sandwiches of various kinds. Hotel Reed management distinguished itself on the get-up. The menu was splendid and the food deliciously cooked and temptingly served.

A rule was that no one was to make an address of any kind. And any member attempting to address the club was put to flight, so to speak. The idea was to have something entirely different and as a result a general jollification resulted.

One of the features was the singing of a Rotary song, a custom of Rotary clubs over the world. In all the evening was thoroughly enjoyed. It was a get-away from the usual routine and business sessions—a real feast and a good time. The stereotyped newspaper expression, "A good time was had by all" may well be used.

"Shepherds of the Hills" At A. & G. Theater This Sunday and Monday.

When a great cast, great story and great dictator are assembled for a motion picture, it's inevitable that moviegoers are in for a treat.

That treat ought to be forthcoming in Paramount's Technicolor film version of the famous novel by Harold Bell Wright, "The Shepherd of the Hills," which arrives at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and and Monday, starring John Wayne, Betty Field and Harry Carey. Henry Hathaway, the masterful director who gave us "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," handled the megaphone on this romantic drama of the Ozarks which is soon to tenant the A. & G. Theater.

As most people know, even if they haven't read the book, the story of "The Shepherd of the Hills" has been read by millions of people, and has become what can fairly be called a classic in American fiction. Literally millions of Harold Bell Wright fans must have been wondering when this great story would be transferred to the screen. Who will be Young Matt who Sammy Lane who Old Matt, they must have wondered. Who will be The Shepherd?

Don't crowd now, and we'll give you the answers in short order. John Wayne is Young Matt, and a splendid portrayal of the hot-blooded, reckless character this handsome, young over-six footer ought to give; Betty Field is seen as Sammy Lane, the half-wild, lovable little mountain girl who could fight and love with the ferocity of a wildcat; Harry Carey that veteran of a hundred perfect screen characterizations, is The Shepherd himself, and Old Matt will be seen enacted by James Barton, famous as the Jeeter Lester of the Broadway play, "Tobacco Road." Other major characters in the story are acted out by a brilliant featured cast including Beulah Bondi, Marjorie Main, Samuel S. Hinds and Marc Lawrence.

As a novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills" thrilled many millions, and as a motion picture now, what with a brilliant cast and director bringing it to the screen, it should find favor among many new millions.

LOCAL NAVY EDITOR DISCUSSES FOR YOUNG MEN OPPORRTUNITIES

Men From 17 to 50 May Enlist in Navy of Naval Reserves; A Chance to Get On the Top—Valuable Illustrated Booklet Given to Men Interested by Calling At The Echo Office.

At the suggestion of Secretary Navy Knox, Charles G. Moreau editor and publisher of The Sea Coast Echo has been made Navy Editor, with John Damborino, assistant navy editor, to help the Navy in giving Bay St. Louis and Hancock county young men information about the opportunities the "Two-Ocean Navy" offers them for technical training and advancement as they serve their country in its emergency.

According to an announcement made public in Washington, a limited number of additional men between the ages of 17 and 50 will be given a chance, by enlistment in the Navy or Naval Reserve, to get to the top, with big pay, in jobs which by their aptitude and as a result of examination they show themselves fitted, from among nearly 50 different trades and vocations. These include such callings as aviation machinist, dental technician, photographer, diesel engineer, radio technician, electrician, welder, storekeeper, and baker. Enlisted men may also qualify for commissions as officers.

Beginning this week, the Navy plans for a limited time to accept new qualified men for training. These men will be sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and may have a chance to go to a Navy trade school even before assignment to the fleet. During this period they will be given regular Navy pay and the Navy's free schooling is valued at hundreds of dollars.

"Never in the history of the United States has there been greater opportunity for loyal young Americans to serve their country and build their futures than right now," said Secretary Knox.

In outlining the many advantages offered by enlistment in the United States Navy, Mr. Moreau, Navy Editor of The Echo said, "It is possible for a bright young man to increase his pay seven times during his first enlistment and he can earn as much as $126 a month. This monthly figure is actually worth much more when it is remembered that the man has few living expenses and is provided with the finest of medical and dental care.

"You have all your food and lodging, and also your original outfit of clothing provided by Uncle Sam free," Mr. Moreau continued. "In addition there are free sports and entertainment—even to the latest Hollywood pictures. On top of this you get free travel and adventure in colorful places—a thing few civilians can afford.

"When you consider the size of this country and the fact that the Navy will select only 15,000 applicants a month from many times that number throughout the United States, the quotation, 'Many are called but few are chosen," will apply to local young men interested.

"Navy men are a 'hand-picked' lot. Candidates must be men of more than average intelligence and ambition, of fine moral character and must have the written recommendation of at least two local townspeople.

As Navy Editor, Mr. Moreau has just received from Washington a supply of free illustrated booklets for all men interested and, in addition, will welcome inquiries from young men who wish to peek into the new and greater opportunities the Navy now offers for training for future civilian careers as they serve their country now in its emergency.

A copy of this book about the navy may be had at the office of the Sea Coast Echo either from Mr. Moreau or Mr. Damborino, by personally applying. No obligation incurred. The booklet is absolutely free for the asking.

SAVING OF WASTE PAPER URGED AS HELP IN DEFENSE.

Defense officials urged citizens to refrain from destroying their waste paper, saying that trade estimates indicate that the average family may save a pound of paper a day. Statistics they say show that only 28 per cent of the nation's paper is now recovered, the rest going into furnaces, incinerators or the rubbish heap.

SCHOOLS OF CITY SHOW LARGE INCREASE IN NEW ENROLLMENT.

Probation Officer Forster Commagere Active in His Charge—All Schools Indicate Increase.

The Bay St. Louis schools, public and private, white and colored, are in the third week of the session and are showing from 25 to 35 per cent increase in enrollment over last year. This is in a measure due to the work of Forster Commagere, probation officer.

With the additional class rooms at Central school Mr. Ingram, city superintendent, says there is still congestion in some departments but it is thought that this may be taken care of without extra teaching force.

The enrollment at St. Stanislaus shows a large increase both in the day school and boarding department but Brother Peter, the president, is taking care of the overflow without congestion.

The approximate enrollment in the city which includes only the residents of Hancock county is as follows: St. Stanislaus, 126 boys besides the total enrollment of 200; St. Joseph's Academy, 181 girls out of the total enrollment of 203; Catholic parochial, 54 boys; Bay St. Louis public schools, Central and two ward schools, 302 girls and 276 boys, making a total of 939 white boys and girls attending school in the city.

The Valena C. Jones Public School shows an enrollment of 75 girls and 81 boys and the St. Rose de Lima private school has an enrollment of 113 girls and 112 boys, making a total of 391 negro boys and girls attending school in the city.

Good Suggestions, But—

Ellett Lawrence, of Greenwood, offers the interesting suggestion that our legislature at its January session should invest the estimated treasury surplus of $4,000,000 in national defense bonds instead of trying to find ways and means of spending the money for divers and sundry things of dubious value; that the lawmakers should also repeal the income tax for a state that can pile up a surplus of that sum in two years does not need an income tax law.

There is little prospect that either suggestion will meet with approval. The lawmakers are certain to find a way to spend at least a goodly portion of that surplus, regardless of what the amount may be, and there isn't a ghost of a chance for repeal of either the income tax or the retail sales tax.

The best Mr. John Taxpayer can hope for is that the legislature will not increase the burden of taxation.—Jackson News.
